TÜSİAD: “The confidence in democracy and law should not be eroded”

The judicial procedure named as "Ergenekon" has to be carried on till the end within the framework of law and in an impartial, equitable, swift and transparent way. A special attention should be given by the authorities to avoid further escalation of concern and polarization within the society and any erosion of the confidence in the democracy and law.

As we already emphasized in our position regarding the banning of political parties, our sole focus is the functioning of the democratic and judiciary system and we invite all the parties concerned to abandon any expectations based on personal or institutional interest.
